ABOUT

J-Belle Kimbrell is an 18-year-old senior at Booker T. Washington High School for the Performing and Visual Arts in Dallas, Texas. In addition, she will serve as an ambassador for Texas Cares For Children, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization which brings character education programming into schools. J-Belle has earned over $10,000 in scholarships towards her college education from the Miss Texas Scholarship Organization, and an additional $5,000 from the Miss America Organization after being named second runner-up at the 2023 competition, along with winning the Advertising Award and a Fundraising Award. Upon graduation, J-Belle will utilize these scholarships to pursue her college degree and a career in the medical field.

STREET SMARTS: STEER CLEAR OF DISTRACTIONS

Distracted driving touched J-Belle's life at a very young age when two separate reckless driving accidents claimed the lives of her dad and brother. Reckless driving is one of the fastest growing safety issues on the roads today. Fortunately, it is one of the most preventable. J-Belle believes it is important to teach people of all ages about road safety and making good choices. Her message is tailored to reach audiences of all ages and demographics in her fight to prevent distracted, reckless and impaired driving. J-Belle looks forward to sharing her social impact with schools, civic organizations and businesses across the state of Texas.

SERVICE & LEADERSHIP

J-Belle is a skilled vocalist and has performed with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra. She has also served as a Student Government representative and established a tutoring program while maintaining a GPA above a 4.0 average. J-Belle is the Fellowship of Christian Arts President and class representative for the Mental Health Safe Haven. As a child, J-Belle was diagnosed with a rare autoimmune disease called Eosinophilic Esophagitis. This came with an overwhelming number of hospital visits and she experienced the anxiety that many children face daily. As she was wheeled to the operating room alone, J-Belle found comfort and courage in the "kozy" items she was able to bring along. This personal experience prompted J-Belle to establish Kozy for Kids, an organization which collects and distributes blankets and "kozy" items to children's hospitals. In just a few years, Kozy for Kids has provided over 1,000 items to children across the DFW area.
