TEEN

PRIVATE INTERVIEW

Each candidate engages in a private 8 minute press conference-style interview with a panel of judges. The candidate will be introduced and the judges will immediately begin with the first question. Teen interviews do not include a closing statement. A timekeeper will indicate when the interview time has ended. Candidates may be questioned based on their background as presented on their resume, educational and career goals, opinions on current events, social issues, their interests, hobbies and/or extracurricular activities. The private interview allows insight into the candidate's ability to fulfill the expectations outlined in the job description and contract. Judges may aim to get a better sense of a candidate's accomplishments beyond the resume, learn more about her commitment to educational excellence, and assess her ability to independently advance both her social impact initiative along with the Miss Texas Organization's initiatives.

Judging Criteria

- Communication skills including personality, intelligence, validated opinions, emotional control, overall first impression and professionalism
- The overall qualities and attributes necessary in order to fulfill the job responsibilities of Miss Texas' Outstanding Teen
- Judges are not scoring based on their own personal agreement with the candidate's statements, position, beliefs, or social impact initiative, but instead how well the candidate interacts and thoughtfully articulates their answers

TALENT

Candidates perform a self-selected talent presentation of up to (but not more than) 90 seconds. Potential talent presentations might include (but are not limited to) singing, dancing, gymnastics, instrumental music, dramatic or comedy monologues, baton twirling and ventriloquism. Candidates may present any talent of their choice as long as it may be performed solo on a stage.

Judging Criteria

- Preparatory and performance skills
- Selection of talent presentation and overall quality of performance
- Interpretive ability and technical skill level including execution, technique, synchronization and control
- On-stage presence and personality
- Totality of elements, including costume, props, voice, use of body and choreography
- Enjoyable and relatable performance
- Note: No rosins, powders, or glitter type solutions are allowed on-stage OR in backstage areas
